Mediation is not the end, but the beginning for the application of more alike conflict-solving tools, which is important in finance, in particular in conflict laden industries, for de-risking assets, negotiating Equator Principles Action Plans, sustainable sourcing codes using a co-creation approach between financier and client. It is instrumental in Public Private Partnerships, large infrastructure projects as deal mediation prevents conflicts even before they gain weight, before a finance contract, a term sheet, a letter of intent or a loan documentation have been concluded. From conflict prevention to solution creation is a small stretch: prototyping strategies, developing theories of change for the Board, or compliance and product development departments creates new breakthroughs through mediation.
